

Clearsight

The albino is blind,
his translucent eyes
gleaming pink
from the blood behind them.

The albino is sighted,
his eyes clear as truth,
focused on the past
and the future.

The albino is visionary:
his hindsight reads yesterday,
his heresight reads today,
his foresight reads tomorrow.

The albino is insightful,
a student of history and psychology;
he understands what was and is and will be,
tilting them gently towards could-become.

The albino is blind
only to visible light.
His clearsight
is 20-20.
